

October 24, 2024

Unifor members help to remove Blaine Higgs' Conservatives in N.B., order your Dec. 6 materials, ITF members gather to strategize to build transportation workers' power, Unifor pushes for good job growth in Ontario, expectations for the federal budget, fighting for toilet rights for taxi drivers, a new contract for EVAS workers, and more.

INTIMATE PARTNER VIOLENCE IS AN EPIDEMIC.

Unifor wins convention centre washroom access for taxi drivers in Ottawa.

READ MORE

Posters and buttons for the National Day for the Elimination of Violence Against Women on December 6 are now available to order.

READ MORE

UNIFOR IN THE NEWS

Unifor celebrates the overwhelming defeat of Premier Blaine Higgs in Monday's New Brunswick election, which elected Susan Holt as the province's first woman premier.

READ MORE

As Saskatchewan heads into a crucial provincial election, three Unifor members are stepping up to represent their communities and fight for progressive change.

READ MORE

Unifor members brave the weather to campaign hard on BC election day.

VIEW PHOTOS

Unifor was an organized and vocal force at the International Transport Workers' Federation Global Congress, representing transport workers from across Canada at this international trade union meeting.

READ MORE

Lana Payne and Samia Hashi outline priorities for economic growth and progress for workers as the Ontario legislature resumes.

READ MORE

Ahead of this week's interest rate cut, Lana Payne urged the Bank of Canada Governor to act to reduce financial pain on workers and their families.

READ MORE

Unifor calls for economic plan and industrial strategy for workers in its submission for the 2025 federal budget.

READ MORE

Unifor pushes for safe staffing and fair working conditions at the UNI Care World Conference.

READ MORE

Canada's labour market added 47,000 jobs in September, with unemployment falling to 6.5%. Yet, participation rates show there are still challenges ahead.

READ MORE

Pilots at the Gander, Nfld.-based Exploits Valley Air Services have voted in favour of a new three-year contract that contains significant monetary gains.

READ MORE